Gas PressureProblem Eased*Improvements Made, Council Informed

COLUMBIANA — Repairs and improvements in its distribution system by the Natural Gas Company of West Virginia have helped the gas pressure in parts of town from which complaints were heard at the last meeting of council, when representatives of the company were present in the interest of a new ordinance increasing rates to consumers.

H. A. Fullerton, former member of council, complained of weak pressure, attributed to a leak on East Salem St., which has been remedied, and a new 150-foot connecting line has eliminated dead ends and improved the flow on Firestone Ave.

On the suggestion of Walter N. Miller, member of the present council, the company has improved the supply for the Risse Engineering Co.'s plant, back of South Elm and Pittsburgh streets. Gas company representatives are to appear before council again tonight, when it is expected that they will submit a proposed ordinance embodying new rates.

WITH ALL BUT two of the contribution receptacles counted and reports yet to be received from the First National Bank in Salem, to which responses to mail solicitations were to be made for C. H. Musser, treasurer of the drive, the annual "march of dimes" in Columbiana and vicinity has netted $1,176.91. The campaign here is prompted by the Rotary Club. Rotarian James E. Knarr, Columbiana building contractor, is local chairman this year.

TOWASI CLASS of the Presbyterian Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Ruth Lehman, 21 East Park Ave., at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, beginning with covered dish dinner, members to take covered dish and table service. Mrs. Roy Guy, Mrs. H. E. Wilhelm and Mrs. Eleanor Estery will be associate hostesses.

Kindergarten Mothers Club will meet in the kindergarten room of the High School building at 8 p.m. Wednesday. Plans will be made for the Valentine party, Thursday, Feb. 14.

The Hobby Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Walter Miller, 365 Firestone Ave., at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

More than 200 persons including guests from Youngstown, Struthers, Wellsville, Lisbon and Leetonia, were present at the first anniversary celebration of Clipper Aerie, F.O.E. auxiliary of Columbiana, Sunday afternoon and evening. Dinner was served for over 150. The auxiliary will meet at 8 p.m. today, and the officers one-half hour earlier.

The Columbiana Clippers play at Lisbon tonight.

The kitchen—dishing out substantial meals of soup, meat, vegetables, bread and coffee—is the first to be set up in Hamtramck since the depression days of the Thirties. A suburban city councilman has proposed publicly-operated soup kitchens to help feed some of the area's 200,000 jobless.

Bus Strike In Ohio Goes Into 7th Day

CLEVELAND (AP) — Central Greyhound Lines drivers took two votes and ended by continuing their wildcat strike into its seventh day today.

Early last evening strikers voted to return to the jobs they left last Wednesday if the company took no retaliatory or discriminating action against any group or individual.

Later the union said it had learned four men would be dropped from the payroll and another vote was taken.

That time it was 140 to 15 for continuing the walkout which has not been authorized by Local 1043 of the AFL Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees.

Union men said the four to be dropped by the company were Gil Haffner of Cleveland, Frank Bond and John Donaldson of Akron and Jerome Whitman of North Canton.

The next union meeting was set for Friday.

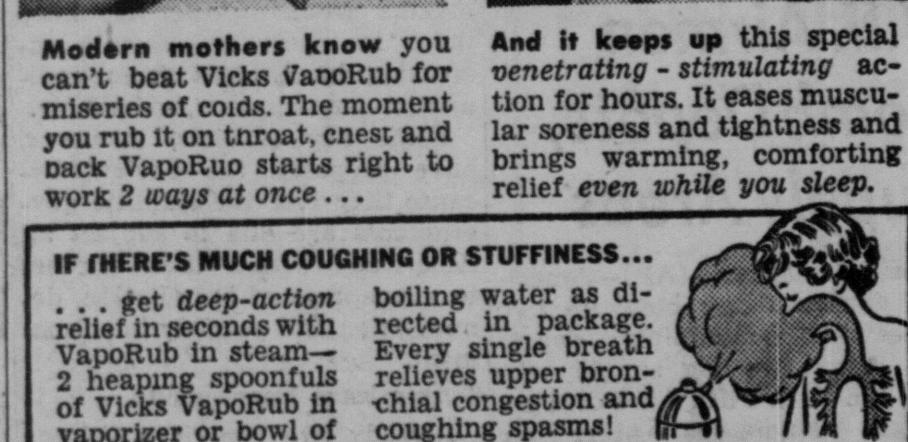

Involved in the walkout are 352 drivers who have tied up the firm's service in a triangular area from Toledo to Port Allegheny, Pa., and south to Parkersburg, W. Va.

Some 25,000 passengers have been affected daily, 10,000 of them commuters in the Cleveland area.

No specific outline of grievances has yet been made public.

Officer Explains Katyn AtrocityIs Convinced Russians Killed Pole Prisoners

WASHINGTON (AP) — Col. John H. Van Vliet has explained to a congressional hearing why he is convinced the Russians, not the Germans, were responsible for Katyn Forest massacre in World War II of some 10,000 Polish war prisoners.

The American officer is the author of a long-missing secret report on the slaughter. He said the Germans showed him and several other war prisoners the bodies in 1943 in an effort to prove the Russians had committed the atrocity shortly after the Soviets captured the Poles in 1940.

Soviet propagandists have long claimed that Hitler's armies killed the Poles when the Germans overran Katyn Forest, 33 miles west of Smolensk, Russia, in 1943.

Van Vliet told a special House committee yesterday that when he saw the bodies—stacked in eight layers "like sardines in a can"—the uniforms and boots on most of them were new and showed few signs of wear.

His experience in prison camp had taught him, Van Vliet said, that clothing and shoes of live prisoners wore out quickly and were slow to be replaced.

EVANGELIST'S RALLY AT CAPITOL. Evangelist Billy Graham addresses a crowd at a religious rally in front of the U. S. Capitol in Washington. The 33-year-old revival leader speaks from a platform at the foot of the center steps of the building. He said he could be elected President "on a platform calling the people back to God."

Van Vliet said that before the Germans took him under guard to view the bodies he had been convinced the Germans were responsible but what he saw changed his mind.

The congressional group asked Van Vliet questions designed to clear up whether his original report on the atrocity had been hushed up. He said his five-year silence was imposed at his own request.

Van Vliet said that after the Russians freed him in 1945, he dictated his first full account in the Pentagon office of Maj. Gen. Clayton Bissell, chief of intelligence.

He said he asked Bissell to provide him with written instructions on secrecy to protect him against being questioned by unauthorized persons.

When his first report could not be found, Van Vliet said, he wrote a second report in 1950 containing the same major facts and conclusions. This report eventually was released by the Defense Department at the insistence of a House inquiry committee.

Van Vliet's testimony was televised.

The committee is yet to hear Marion (Mike) Gwaiha who escaped from the Russian prison camp in which most of the Poles killed at Katyn had been held.

Ohio 37th Division Gets Weekend Passes

CAMP POLK, La. (AP) — Men of the 37th Division started a seven-week basic training program yesterday, but it won't be all work.

Last weekend many men of the former Ohio National Guard outfit got passes to nearby Leesville or De Ridder. A dance honoring the 147th Infantry Regiment from southwestern Ohio was held in the main service club. The post field house was open for athletics.

Division Chaplain Ferdinand Evans reported religious services in the division area have been well attended for the past two Sundays.

Another cheerful note was the completion of the first unit of a 200-unit housing development in Leesville. It was occupied by Sgt. and Mrs. Ralph Duktig of Berea.

The housing development, and another 50-unit project in De Ridder, are being built under a government order which designated the Camp Polk area as a critical defense area. All of the housing has been spoken for since last September.

Fall Helps Invalid To Walk Once Again

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Betty Postema, who six years ago thought she would never walk again, is out of her wheelchair today.

The pretty 22-year-old Calvin College secretary had been paralyzed from the waist down from a fall while she was in high school.

Doctors held no hope for her recovery. But Betty completed her education and went to work. Then, last April she fell from her wheelchair on the steps of a college building.

She landed on her spine, and Betty said, "Life just seemed to flow into my legs. The more I exercised the stronger they got."

Surgeons said the second tumor, apparently freed adhesions now Betty after months of practicing in secret, is walking again. She says:

"It was something that happened in God's providence."

PENN-OHIO UNIVERSITYSalem Branch Makes Statement:

The Salem branch of Penn-OHIO University is a new college in this community. SALEM COLLEGE is Penn-OHIO University in Salem.

The old Salem Business College folded up in the summer of 1950. We purchased a part of its equipment. SALEM COLLEGE never had any connection whatever with the defunct Salem Business College. This is a new unit of Penn-OHIO University; a new college with a new name. Any stories to the contrary are false and vicious propaganda.

SALEM COLLEGE of Penn-OHIO University is a collegiate institution, with a Business School and a Dressmaking School in operation. We also operate an Adult High School for those who desire to win a high school diploma.

Our organization and methods are along university lines. Our teachers are expertly trained in their subjects, experienced in their fields, and in teaching. They are the best in this section of the country.

The work here is guided by Garland A. Bricker, a former professor in education at Ohio State and at Syracuse universities. He founded Penn-OHIO University at Youngstown over ten years ago. It is a non-profit institution backed by the Penn-OHIO Educational Foundation, an Ohio corporation not for profit. That is why our tuition is so low.

Dr. Bricker is an experienced college executive, who has been listed in "Who's Who in America" for over 20 years for his achievements. His books are used in colleges of this and foreign English-speaking countries. He has organized this university and its units along modern practical lines. Our students and graduates are received at par by leading colleges and universities. Our university methods are modified by individualized instruction in small groups. We have more calls for our trainees than we can supply. University students and college graduates have come here for training.

Our students go far beyond ordinary high school youth, because they are older and better trained. Our product right here in Salem proves this! Nowhere can young adults find better courses than those we offer. Our students must work hard to master their aspirations! Nowhere can young adults find better courses than those we offer. Our students must work hard to master their aspirations! Nowhere can young adults find better courses than those we offer. Our students must work hard to master their aspirations!

SALEM COLLEGE is Salem's Opportunity; may Salem community live up to it! Watch the classified ads in the Salem News for our announcements.

READ THIS: "I can truly say I learned more under Mrs. Bricker's teaching than I learned in four years of my business courses in high school."—Quoted from a student's letter. She has been in SALEM COLLEGE two weeks and expects to continue as soon as the weather moderates. "I surely did enjoy going to school," she says. Letter available for inspection on request.

Ohio River To Go Below Flood Stage

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Weather Bureau, with fingers crossed this time, predicts that the Ohio River will keep on falling and will go below flood stage early today.

The weatherman predicted earlier that the river would be below the 52-foot flood stage yesterday noon, but heavy rain over the weekend kept the big stream from going down.

At 1 a.m. this morning, the river was down to 53.3 feet and had been dropping steadily since the 54.4 stage recorded at noon yesterday.

Meanwhile, the Hamilton County Health Board took steps to prevent a possible outbreak of typhoid fever at Addyston, following contamination of the adjacent village's water supply from flood waters.

Anti-typhoid vaccine was made available to village residents.

Elsewhere in the county, four roads still were under water—Lawrenceburg Road between Elizabethtown and Brower Road, and between Elizabethtown and Suspension Bridge Road; Debolt Road, and four and eight mile roads.

Rain yesterday caused a small landslide on Columbia Parkway, but the displaced dirt was removed and traffic went uninterrupted.

Truck Strike Mediators Call In Both Sides

MEMPHIS (AP) — Federal mediators called in leaders of both sides in the 10-state AFL truck drivers strike today to try for a wage compromise.

It was the third day of conferences between the three-man conciliation panel, Southwest and Southeast Motor Carriers Associations and the AFL Teamsters Union.

Apparently, the walkout by about 10,000 long haul drivers in the southern strip of the nation has had little effect on any one section so far. There were no complaints of shortages.

The long haul drivers demanded a 19-cent increase in the $1.41 hourly scale, and a three-quarter cent hike in the mileage rate. The operators offered 12 cents and a half cent increase on mileage.

The strike covered Arkansas, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, Texas and Oklahoma.

Ohio Dems Split Vote; Kefauver Support Hit

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Ohio Democratic state executive committee voted yesterday to send 16 delegates-at-large with half a vote each to the party's national convention next July, instead of eight delegates-at-large with a full vote each.

The move was viewed as an attempt to weaken the supporters of Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who have entered only eight candidates for delegates-at-large from Ohio.

The committee's action would give the Kefauver delegates-at-large, if all were elected, only four votes at the convention.

CONDENMED TOP NAZI A MONK. Martin Bormann (left) top Nazi who allegedly escaped the destruction of Berlin after ordering the burning of the suicide Hitler and his bride Eva Braun, is reported to have been found living as a monk in the Franciscan monastery of San Antonio near Rome. Bormann was condemned to death for war crimes.

58 County Seniors Take State TestsRepublic Steel Corp.'s Profit Shows Big Drop

CLEVELAND (AP) — Republic Steel Corp.'s profit of $54,921,541 last year was termed "good" to day by the firm's president, "but not good enough."

Republic President C. M. White also stated that "if a wage increase is forced on the industry it must be accompanied by a compensating price increase."

Net profits declined from $63,794,711 in 1950 to $54,921,541 last year, the company stated, attributing the drop chiefly to federal tax provisions, "which rose from $79,200,000 to $117,500,000."

Towns Ask Membership In Sanitary DistrictYOUNGSTOWN (AP)

YOUNGSTOWN (AP) — The Youngstown Valley Sanitary District Court of Jurisdiction has been asked to take the Boardman and Austintown sewer districts into membership.

Mahoning County commissioners made the request in a move to protect the towns from having their water cut off in the event the sanitary district does not have a surplus.

The City of Youngstown previously had asked the district to review plans for an expansion so as to eliminate additional services for townships outside the city. Judge John W. Ford has ruled Youngstown may not drop its contracts to furnish water outside areas but may cut off the water if there is no surplus.

Austintown and Boardman are in a dispute with Youngstown over proposed water rate increases.

A Question Of Honesty

THERE ARE several things to be remembered about Harold L. Ickes as death brings his name back into the news for the last time.

He was one of the pace-setters for an outburst of political rancor which is still having an effect on the republic. With Ickes, no weapons were barred. Ridicule and hatred were his favorite implements for hurting others.

Snatched from a political obscurity in Illinois to a position of prominence in Franklin Roosevelt's first "New Deal," Ickes worked diligently to prove his mettle in an era of name-calling. Born with a high aptitude for picking fights with one and all, he had a fine time in Roosevelt's cabinet, at public expense.

Among his merits, honesty appears to have been first and foremost. He called attention to his own honesty by calling attention to the dishonesty of others—a tried and true strategem in politics. But let it be to his credit that he seems to have believed in honesty where money was concerned.

As to his mental honesty, there are legitimate doubts. Whether a free-born American citizen educated in the American way of life could create as much bitterness as Harold Ickes created and still be honest with himself is problematic.

It was problematic while he was in the Roosevelt cabinet, after he quit and was still problematic when death claimed him at the age of 77.

Can Defense Be Efficient?

IF YOU ARE a taxpayer of the United States—and you are—you are in an argument with Secretary of Defense Lovett.

The secretary told a Senate appropriations subcommittee Monday that the $52 billion military spending total recommended by President Truman is untouchable. That is the argument.

Mr. Lovett says any less than $52 billion would rob the military spending agencies of their efficiency. You say, as all taxpayers must say, that either the military spending agencies must learn to be more efficient or the jig's up.

In the good old days, the United States could afford to take the lid off military spending in an emergency, because as soon as the emergency was over it would demobilize. In 1940, the Army and Navy were spending about $12 billions.

But military costs today are tremendous, even in peacetime. While this is not peace-time, neither is it warfare. If a budget of $52 billion represents rock-bottom figure—if those congressional committees which have uncovered evidence of waste are only fooling—then it must be conceded there simply is no fat that can be taken off the budget anywhere.

That is your argument with Secretary of Defense Lovett, who contends that every penny of the $5,200,000,000 he is going to spend is absolutely necessary. If that were true of the handful of pennies you are about to spend, there would be no argument.

No Money Off Trees

THE higher wages and greater benefits which the steel industry is being asked to pay its workers must come from some place.

Benjamin F. Fairless, speaking for U.S. Steel Corp., points out to Wage Stabilization Board that most of it would come from taxes, the rest from profits. In both places, the impact would be felt—in higher personal tax rates on all citizens in one case, in less ability to expand the steel industry in the other case.

All wage increases other than those which can be paid out of increased production must be taken from someone else. Wage inflation since 1945 has been largely at the expense of savers, except for whatever part has been justified by more efficient production.

There is no money to be picked off trees—not even in the never-never land where wage rates are supposed to rise forever.

Income Taxes

By JAMES MARLOW

Form 1040-A and the Short Form

HERE ARE some reminders on what to do, and what to watch out for, if you're making your 1951 income tax return on form 1040-A or the 1040 short form.

1. If husband and wife make a joint return, both must sign it.

2. Be sure when you hand in your return that you attach to it all the receipts—form W-2—given you by a boss as proof of what he paid you and how much tax he withheld from you last year.

3. Be careful, under item No. 1 on both forms, to claim all the exemptions to which you're entitled. For each you knock $600 off your income before what's left is taxable.

Everyone filing a return gets a $600 exemption for himself, another $600 if he's blind, and still another $600 if he's 65. That would give a 65-year old blind man a total of $1,800 in exemptions.

If your wife had no income and you alone file a return—or if she did or didn't have income but files jointly with you—you get a $600 exemption for her, another $600 if she's blind, plus another $600 if she's 65.

(But for a dependent—a wife is never considered a dependent—you get only one $600 exemption and nothing extra if he's blind or 65.)

NOTE: If your wife had any income at all, no matter how small, you get no exemption for her unless she files jointly with you: If she files separately she claims her exemptions on her return.

4. Remember that Form 1040-A and the 1040 short-form can be used only for reporting income under $5,000. If you're reporting more income than that, you can't use either of those two forms. You must use the 1040 long-form where you figure your own tax.

ANY UNDER-$5,000 person can use the 1040 short-form where you find your tax in the table on the back. But if you're under $5,000 you can use form 1040-A only if—

Full tax was withheld from your 1951 income except for no more than $100 in untaxed wages, interest or dividends. If you don't fit that rule—most wage-earners do—but are under $5,000, you can use the 1040 short-form.

Everyone using 1040-A or the short-form automatically gets a deduction, for personal expenses, of about 10 per cent. He gets it automatically. He doesn't have to claim it or itemize it. It's allowed for in the table used to figure the tax on people using those forms.

If your income was under $5,000 but your deductible expenses were more than 10 per cent, then use the 1040 long-form where you'll have to itemize but can claim your deductions in full.

Some points on form 1040-A—

You do not figure Answer the questions. You pay no money when you turn it in, even though you think you owe tax. The collector will figure the tax for you. If too much tax was withheld from you during the year, he'll give you a refund. If he finds you still owe tax, he'll notify you. You get 30 days after the notification to pay the tax.

If you file jointly on form 1040-A with your wife, the collector will figure your tax both ways to see whether it's cheaper for you to file jointly or separately. He'll give you the benefit of what he finds.

NOW TAKE THE 1040 short-form—

When you use the table on page 4 to find your tax pay close attention to those columns which show the tax based on (1) your income and (2) the number of exemptions claimed on your return.

Say the Joneses, with two children, had a total income of $4,835, of which his wife had earned $35 sewing. If the Joneses file jointly they claim four exemptions: Their own two and one each for their children.

On the line showing income from $4,800 to $4,850 Jones looks across to the column showing the tax on people with four exemptions. It shows—since his $4,835 is between $4,800 and $4,850—that the tax on him and his wife is $396.

But, since Mrs. Jones' income was less than $600, she doesn't have to file a return at all, separately or jointly with Jones. But, since she had some income, even though only $35, he can't claim an exemption for her unless she files jointly with him.

Say she doesn't file jointly. That leaves him only three exemptions, for himself and the two children. And his income, minus her $35, is $4,800. He looks across that same line as before, the one showing the tax on $4,800-$4,850 income.

But this time he looks under the column for a married man with three exemptions—filing separately—and finds his tax is $530, or $134 more than when he and his wife filed jointly, claiming four exemptions.

If you're a self-employed person using the 1040 short-form, note line No. 5 (B) on Page 1, where it says to list your social security tax, if you're self-employed.

(This year several million self-employed people pay a social security tax on their self-employed income for 1951. The tax is 2 1/4 per cent on the first $3,600 of that income.)

If you're in this group, list the amount of your social security tax on line 5 (B) and pay it, when you file the income tax return, together with any income tax you owe.

Besides using form 1040 for their income tax return, the self-employed must also use a separate form, Schedule C, where they provide information necessary for determining their social security tax.

Our County Banks

THE excellent financial and economic conditions prevailing in Columbian County are shown by the fact that total resources of the banks of the county amount to $91,786,278. This figure was obtained by combining the year-end statements of the various banks.

The official reports of conditions made by the banks to governmental authorities disclosed that Columbian County banks had on deposit with them $81,525,840 and of this, $32,708,125 had been used in making loans to aid the conduct of business and to fulfill the needs of the citizens of the community.

Deposits show the people of the county to be keeping up with or a little ahead of the nation in accumulating funds. While the total looks large, the bankers point out that, although the limit per account is $10,000, a man and wife, for instance, may have a total of $30,000 of insured deposits in the bank—$10,000 in the name of each and $10,000 in a joint account.

Now comes the senate subcommittee with a unanimous report by Republicans and Democrats which says in part:

"There is no conclusive evidence on which great progress has been made in recent years in a condition known as subacute bacterial endocarditis, a disease which was formerly almost invariably fatal.

In this disease the blood stream and heart valves are invaded by germs known as streptococci. The growths or vegetations on the heart valves break off and are carried by the blood to other parts of the body, setting up new infections.

Endocarditis usually begins gradually. The patient is likely to tire easily, there is loss of energy and an all-in feeling, and loss of pep.

After a time there are likely to be chilly sensations, unusual sweating, and slight fever. Sometimes muscle or joint pains and headache are present. These symptoms may appear alone or in various combinations.

Until recently many treatments had been tried, but almost always with disappointing results. At first even the sulfa drugs and penicillin seemed disappointing.

Now, however, most patients who develop acute bacterial endocarditis (provided that the disease is diagnosed early) recover if they are given large enough doses of penicillin over a long enough period of time.

Many of the early failures with penicillin seem to have been caused by lack of knowledge as to how large an amount of the drug should be given and for how long a time.

This experience is typical of any new drug, as it takes time before the best method of giving it and the dosage can be worked out.

Somé problems and difficulties still remain. The streptococci causing the infection are not all alike; that is, there are different strains.

Some of these strains are more sensitive to the action of penicillin than others, and those which are rather resistant are much harder to eliminate from the body.

Also, if the patient is treated at first without enough penicillin, the strain of streptococcus causing that particular infection may become resistant to penicillin and therefore less likely to respond to treatment.

Combinations of penicillin with other germ-attacking substances are also used not infrequently.

It is a real triumph that a terrible disease like subacute bacterial endocarditis, about which physicians formerly were so helpless, now can be cured in most instances. The remaining difficulties are being gradually mastered and in all probability a still higher percentage of cures will be obtained in the future.

It is tremendously important, of course, that diagnosis (which is not always easy) should be made early.

Chicago firemen were called to put out a blaze in a juke box. Oh, those hot tunes.

Well, the kids are back in school—but how far back their parents won't know until the report cards come.

The Eternal Optimist

Boyle, Truman and The Committee Report

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON

CANDOR is something the American people expect from the President of the United States at all times. They look to the man in the White House to be frank and sincere and to frown on the use of political influence especially where public funds are concerned.

The acid test of a President's moral leadership is what he does about political influence when it is wrongfully exerted for private benefit or special privilege.

Last summer when a question of alleged improper influence arose in connection with the activities of William Boyle, then chairman of the Democratic National Committee, President Truman issued a public statement dated August 9 in which he said:

"I have examined into the facts concerning William Boyle's alleged relationship to RFC loans to the American Lithofold Corporation of St. Louis, Missouri. The facts I have obtained indicate that Mr. Boyle had nothing to do with the approval of these loans by the RFC."

"I think it would be highly improper for the chairman of a national political committee to use his contacts with government officials for his own private gain. I would not condone such conduct for a moment."

Then on October 13 Mr. Boyle made public a letter of resignation as chairman of the Democratic National Committee citing reasons of ill health. He insisted that he had done nothing wrong and quoted a Republican member of the senate investigating committee as saying there was "no evidence of illegality or moral turpitude" on the part of Mr. Boyle disclosed in the record of the committee.

"HOWEVER, the circumstances surrounding the employment of Mr. Boyle and later the retention of his former legal associate, Mr. Max Siskind, as attorney for the American Lithofold Corp., together with the unbusinesslike and unprofessional methods used in transferring the law practice from Mr. Boyle to Mr. Siskind in April 1949 gives rise to the suspicion that Boyle and Siskind continued to share in the profits of a lucrative law business after Boyle became a paid official of the Democratic National Committee. In the light of these facts it could be inferred that Mr. Boyle was paid indirectly in the $14,500 in legal fees which the American Lithofold Corp. paid to Mr. Siskind.

The subcommittee did not find that Mr. Boyle engaged in any activities which were either illegal or immoral. However, when all of his actions as disclosed by this investigation are considered, it is evident that Mr. Boyle failed to follow that course of conduct which the public rightly expects of the chairman or other officials of a major political party. Officials of the major political parties, whether paid or unpaid, hold positions in the nature of a quasi-public trust and they must therefore follow the same standards of conduct which are demanded of public officials. They must not only refrain from acts which are illegal, immoral or patently improper, but as is expected of a public official, they must also avoid the appearance of wrongdoing by avoiding that type of activity which might lead the public to believe or suspect that chicanery is taking place.

Mr. Boyle's conduct was not such that it would dispel the appearance of wrongdoing."

In view of the above was President Truman's statement at his press conference of August 9 a candid

Presbyterian Men Hold 4th Annual Council

THE NATIONAL COUNCIL of Presbyterian Men in the United States held their fourth annual meeting in Chicago Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. Delegates from the Salem Council were C. Raymond Reich and Wallace N. King, president and vice president of the local group.

More than 1,250 delegates attended the opening session Friday but 2,000 were present at the Saturday and Sunday meetings. The first organizational meeting in 1948 was attended by only 325 men, showing the organization's growth in four years. Dr. Paul Moser, executive secretary reported that there are now 1,637 chartered local councils throughout the country with an active membership of 85,000 with some 175,000 in partial participation.

St. Louis Pastor Speaks

The keynote address was delivered by Dr. James W. Clarke, pastor of the 2nd Presbyterian Church in St. Louis, Mo. He stressed the needs of every church for a layman's organization. Dr. Harrison R. Anderson moderator of the 163rd general assembly and pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian Church in Chicago gave the address Friday noon.

Denver C. Bates of Akron, uncle of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Donald C. Holt of Alliance, a Sigma Nu fraternity brother of the groom at Mount Union College, and Charles Grubbs of Lisbon, a cousin of the bride. The groom is a graduate of Mt. Union.

Miss Peggy Ann Bates, sister of the groom, was the soloist for the ceremony and Miss Patricia Parman of Akron her accompanist. Mrs. Glenn Jackson of Leetonia was pianist for the nuptial music.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Bates will be at home in their apartment in Akron, where the groom is in the employ of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

In addition to her college, the bride graduated from Leetonia Hollywood, Calif., Presbyterian Church, the largest in the country and Dr. Clifford Babour, president of Western Theological Seminary in Pittsburgh. Whiteman New President

The new president is Thomas E. Whiteman, purchasing agent for the Woolworth Co. in New York City. The council is stressing the "Everyman" plan this year in an attempt to not only get every Presbyterian man to take part in the work of the church but to get all the men in various other Protestant churches throughout the country to organize and form similar organizations in their churches.

Some churches have set up men's councils and there is a national organization department of United Church Men, under the National Council of Churches of Christ in America, with Lem T. Jones of Kansas City as chairman. Mr. Jones is a past president of the National Council of Presbyterian Men.

Three Outstanding Papers
Read To Book Club Members

OUTSTANDING IN COMPOSITION were the three papers which interested 38 members of the Book Club Monday afternoon in the library assembly room. Mrs. James Cross presided.

Mrs. W. D. King told of the work of an "army" of 11 million club women from all parts of the world, who are working together for the betterment of society and all mankind. She explained the work of the General President of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Hirma Houghton, in her talk on "International Federation of Women's Clubs."

Mrs. Houghton is required to spend her full time at general headquarters in Washington, D. C. and is now registered with Congress as a lobbyist along with Mrs. Leslie Wright, legislative chairman. Thus Mrs. King said the rights of women are protected in Congress.

Women Status Traced
Especially well-prepared was the paper presented by Mrs. Maurice Sader on "Our Neighbors Around The World." She traced the political status of women back to Roman law.

Under the day's theme, "United Nations Day" Mrs. George Talbot told of some of the work of the women in the U. N. Illustrated in the informative program was the verse, "Nobody can live longer in peace than his neighbor pleases."

Robert Dunn, John Litty, Bill Schuller, with their trumpets entertained with the playing of "Holiday" and "Aurora." Bruce Snyder was accompanist.

May Attend Conference
Members of the Book Club are expected to attend the Mississippi Valley Conference in Cleveland Feb. 12 as affiliate members of the Ohio Valley Federation of Women's Clubs. The conference only occurs in this area about every 12 years. Mrs. Clarence Goldthorpe of Youngstown, chairman of Club Institutes of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will speak at the conference.

Mrs. Cross named Mrs. A. H. Schropp, Mrs. Ross Clay and Mrs. R. R. Woods to the nominating committee. They will present a slate of officers at the meeting Feb. 18 in the library.

WHY SHOULD YOU BE FORCED TO RISK YOUR MONEY IN SOME OTHER PERSON'S BUSINESS?

IF OUR GOVERNMENT IS NOT TO INTERFERE WITH THE LIBERTY AND PROPERTY OF AMERICAN CITIZENS, THE PEOPLE MUST INSIST ON A MORAL PURPOSE FOR OUR GOVERNMENT!

EVERY INDIVIDUAL has certain natural rights — the right to LIFE, the right to LIBERTY, the right to earn and use PROPERTY as he pleases. We call these rights "natural" because they are God-given. Would God have created each individual with different abilities and preferences if these differences were not to be expressed freely? And isn't property an extension of the different talents and abilities with which individuals are born? Thus these natural rights are supremely important and individuals have the right to defend them from the interference of other individuals — even by using force if that is necessary.

So men create a common force — a government — to protect their individual God-given rights at all times. Therefore, the moral purpose of government is this:

"TO MAKE AND ENFORCE LAWS WHICH PROTECT EVERY INDIVIDUAL'S GOD-GIVEN LIFE, LIBERTY AND PROPERTY FROM THE INTERFERENCE OF ANY OTHER INDIVIDUAL OR GROUP — AND THESE LAWS MUST ALSO PROTECT THE PEOPLE FROM GOVERNMENT ITSELF."

Government must use force to protect the rights of its citizens effectively. So while government is a necessity, it is at the same time dangerous. The danger is that government may use its power to take away the rights of citizens, by depriving them of their liberty or by forcing them to do things with their property that they would not do voluntarily. When this happens the original moral purpose of government is perverted and government becomes immoral.

WOULD YOU DO THESE THINGS
VOLUNTARILY?

1. WOULD YOU LOAN YOUR MONEY IN BUSINESSES YOU NEVER HEARD OF?
2. WOULD YOU LOAN YOUR MONEY IN ENTERPRISES THAT COULDN'T OR WOULDN'T GET MONEY FROM ANY PRIVATE BANK?
3. WOULD YOU LOAN YOUR MONEY IN BUSINESSES WHERE YOU RECEIVED NONE OF THE PROFIT BUT WERE FORCED TO PAY THE LOSSES?

BUT YOU ARE FORCED TO DO THESE THINGS BY THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT.

IN THE PEACE-TIME YEAR 1949, VARIOUS GOVERNMENT CORPORATIONS WERE USING —

13 BILLION DOLLARS
OF YOUR MONEY FOR LOANS
TO SPECIAL PRIVILEGED GROUPS!

SOME OF THESE LOANS WERE MADE BY —

RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORP.	-----	$ 1,782,000,000
COMMODITY CREDIT CORPORATION	-----	1,729,000,000
EXPORT-IMPORT BANK	-----	2,187,000,000
RURAL ELECTRIFICATION ADM.	-----	1,301,000,000
FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION	-----	514,000,000
PUBLIC HOUSING ADMINISTRATION	-----	285,000,000

THUS —

YOU'VE LOST YOUR LIBERTY TO CHOOSE WHETHER TO RISK YOUR EARNINGS IN ONE OF THESE BUSINESSES. YOUR PROPERTY HAS BEEN TAKEN AWAY BY TAXES FOR WHATEVER PURPOSES GOVERNMENT PLANNERS DECIDE.

GUIDE FOR FREEDOM

JUDGE ALL LAWS BY ASKING THIS QUESTION: "DOES THIS LAW PROTECT EVERY INDIVIDUAL IN HIS GOD-GIVEN RIGHT TO LIFE, LIBERTY AND PROPERTY FROM THE INTERFERENCE OF ANY OTHER INDIVIDUAL OR FROM GOVERNMENT ITSELF?"

Middletown Tops Cage Teams; Kid Gavilan Retains Crown

Middies Hold 14-0 Record; Hamilton, Steubenville Follow

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio's sports writers have a hunch, and a decided one, that the state's high school basketball talent is packed on the sunset side of the Buckeye domain.

Of the ten top teams in the Class A section of the weekly Associated Press poll, only unbeaten Steubenville was able to crack the unbroken front of squads from the Central, Southwestern and Northwestern districts.

At the peak—where they've been all season—are the Middies of Middletown who had a tough chore last week disposing of Portsmouth's Trojans, 68-61. The Middies picked up 18 first place votes from the 28 poll participants, while third place Steubenville got four.

In second place, with no first place choices but with plenty of other support, is Middletown's Butler County rival, Hamilton. Defending champion Columbus East, second a week ago, skidded to fourth despite its 13-0 record.

SEVEN OF THE TEAMS in the top ten have won 16 of the 29 state titles since the Ohio High School Athletic Association launched the tourney in 1923. The championships have gone to Dayton Stivers, four; Middletown and Newark, three each; Springfield and Hamilton, two each, and Findlay and Columbus East, one each.

Mansfield, Findlay, Ashland and Springfield suffered defeats last week but stayed in the top ten. Mansfield whipped Ashland and then lost to Zanesville; Hamilton trounced Springfield although five of the Big Blue stars went out on fouls; and Findlay was an upset victim of Marion Harding, 39-34, the victory avenging an earlier 78-78 setback at the hands of Findlay.

Springfield clung to 10th rating despite a 6-6 record, one of the poorest ever to find its way into the big ten. The Wildcats missed 25 of 40 free throws against Hamilton.

Miller City's Midgets, the 1950 Class B kings, moved out front in the minor loop despite being handed their first loss in 18 starts by Glandorf, 48-40. Randolph, last week's leader, saw its 15-game winning streak ended, 47-44 by Centerville which had won only two contests.

FROM HERE AND THERE: Robin Freeman of Cincinnati Hughes scored 47 and 41 in last week's games, giving him 587 for 15 tilts, an average of 39.1—but Hughes has won only five and lost 10.

Other high scorers included Bob Lutz of Gibsonville, 44; George Lim of Grandview and Don Kelley of Cardington, 41; Jack Evans of Middlebranch, 37; Dale Ford of Lexington, 36; Dave McCaughey of Mifflin and Orlen Voltz of Berlin, 36; Chuck McGuire of Gibsonburg and Ronnie Craycraft of Morrell, 34; Jim Nash of Somerset Holy Trinity, 33; Bob Stone of Bexley, Bill Kardos of Wooster, and Harold Detwiler of Edison, 32; Nathan Price of Ontario, 31, and Kenny Terry of Shelby, 30.

Bevo Francis of Wellsville is averaging 27, McGuire 27.3, Paul Hockman of unbeaten Bremen 24.5, Kelley of Cardington 24, and Phil Wheeler of Cincinnati Western Hills, 24.

Marion St. Mary and Elm Valley, each beaten once, meet to-night . . . unbeaten teams in Class B which failed to make the top ten include Northwestern 20, Dresher 19, Woodsfield, 16, Taylor 16, Huron 13, Stockdale and Killbuck 12.

Dillonvale's George Gothot ran his free throw string to 30 before missing last week, but has 40 of the last 42 and 116 of 136 for the season.

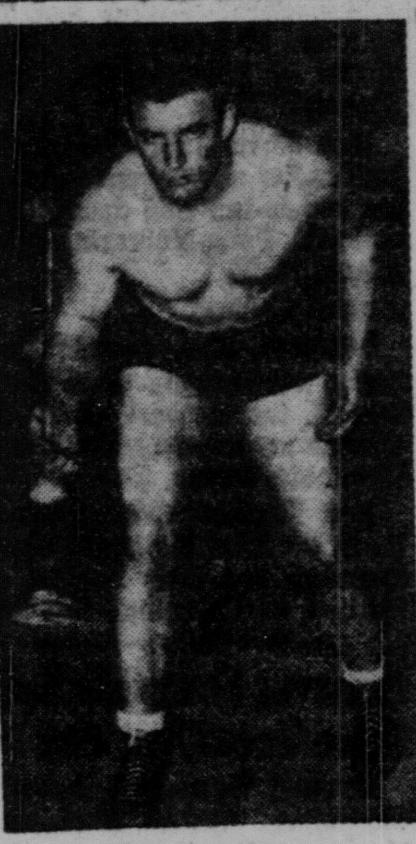

STEUBENVILLE DEFEATED Martins Ferry 71-63 for its 13th win, the first time in 13 years the Big Red could turn that trick . . . Coach Ray Chadwell's Fredericktown team won the Knox County title for the fifth straight year . . . And Luther Taylor's Blanchester Wildcats triumphed in Clinton County to make it three in a row.

Charles Deeds of Newark's unbeaten Wildcats, who wasn't even lukewarm last year, is wearing contact lenses and scored 26 against Coshocton last week . . . Al Rhoads, Athens official, skidded, turned over twice and landed in a ditch with his car enroute to Chillicothe Friday, but got there in time to handle the game with Marietta.

Castalia Margareta has outscored the foe 828 to 441 in winning 12 of 13 . . . Waynesburg, runner-up to Grand Rapids for the Class B crown a year ago, won its third straight Stark County title—the club has won 38 straight league games and 48 in a row in regular season play.

John (Big Thunder) Lewis of Fremont Ross, the All-Ohio footballer, is averaging 20 points in basketball. But his big love is baseball, and big league scouts are looking him over. When he isn't pitching he plays the outfield, and he hits 'em a mile, the boys say.

Stambaugh Set For Wrestling Show Feb. 9

Stambaugh Auditorium will produce its first wrestling show in more than a year and a half Saturday evening when Jim DeNiro presents a five-bout special slated to get underway at 8:30.

DeNiro has arranged five bouts for wrestling fans and all of the wrestlers are top name grapplers, which many fans have watched on television.

Gene "Mr. America" Stanlee, a popular TV matman, will tangle with Bobby Ford, a grappler from near-by Poland, in the main tussle of the evening. Preceeding bouts will pit Marvin "Atomic" Mercer against Jackie Nichols; Luther Lindsey will face Joe Scarpollo; and Big Bill Miller will encounter Irish Tommy O'Toole in the opener of the evening.

ANOTHER FEATURE of DeNiro's initial presentation will be a girls' match pitting Cora Combs against Loraine Johnson.

A special ring is being constructed for the Saturday night bout. The four cornered affair will be set near the stage with the latter being used as the ring-side seats along with other seats surrounding the ring.

Tickets for the matches may be purchased at the auditorium or by reserved at the auditorium box office.

Salem Frosh Win Over Goshen, 43-29

The Salem Frosh captured a 43-29 decision over the Goshen Union Frosh Monday evening on the local floor outscoring the visitors in three of the four periods.

The Salem five got off to a bang-up start with a 17-point first quarter to hold a 17-3 advantage over the Unioners. Outscoring the latter team, 12-7, in the second frame, the Quakers held a 29-10 lead at halftime.

Ten more markers in the third stanza gave the locals a 39-14 lead as the two teams entered the fourth quarter.

Coach Ken Jacobs used most of his bench during the game and the Union five took advantage of it by tallying 15 markers in the final quarter and holding Salem to just five tallies. The Quakers, however, had a large lead and the Goshen quintet could not catch up.

Harry Baird led the locals with nine markers while John Todd and Ken Bosu scored eight points apiece. Lee Mellott and Bob Woolf led the Unioners with six tallies apiece.

The Frosh will face Alliance Broadway on the Broadway floor Thursday in a return match between the teams.

British To Send Ship After Antarctic Incident

LONDON (AP) — Britain is sending the 1,600-ton, well-armed frigate Burghhead Bay cruising in the disputed Antarctic territory where Argentine shots fired in the air repulsed a British landing party last weekend. Informed officials said the ship would sail from Port Stanley in the Falkland Islands in a day or two.

The firing occurred at an island in Hope Bay, near the northeastern peninsula of Grahamland. Both Britain and Argentina claim territory there. The British were trying to reestablish a survey base at Hope Bay.

Britain filed a vigorous protest of the incident with Argentine Foreign Minister Jeronimo Remorino yesterday. Remorino assured the British Charge D'Affaires in Buenos Aires that the armed Argentines "acted in error" and that their orders had been "clarified."

Officials described the frigate's trip as a customary and seasonal mission.

CRITICAL COMMENT has indicated these five pictures will be in the running for Academy Award nominations and "Oscars" in voting set for February and March.

RESPECTABILITY is center of struggle in "A Street Car Named Desire" (Warner) from play by Tennessee Williams. Picture shows Vivien Leigh with Marlon Brando.

SOCIAL STATUS rules the story of "A Place in the Sun" (Paramount) from Dreiser's "An American Tragedy." Here's Elizabeth Taylor with Montgomery Clift.

FANATIC devotion to duty is found in the adaptation of Sidney Kingsley play, "Detective Story" (Paramount). Here are Kirk Douglas, Horace McMahon and William Bendix.

DEVOITION by a nurse-governess is central in "The Blue Veil" (RKO). Jane Wyman, shown talking to proud pappa, Charles Laughton, is the widowed nurse who refuses remarriage.

Dr. Pelley paints a promising picture of the future of the Hanoverton area. But despite this and the fact that he has spent more than half a century solving problems for others, he has been unable to iron out this vital problem for his community, which would give him the rest he has earned.

"It is the problem of fast progress and civilization," he says, "but this diagnosis is a poor panacea for a community's ills."

AS THE ELDERLY doctor says: "It seems to be what one wants out of life."

Hanoverton's mayor, Howard Hart, who recently retired to the village after spending 49 years with a Cleveland bank, says the town fathers will do everything they can to see that Dr. Pelley gets aid and relief.

THE INCORPORATED portion of Hanoverton now boasts 500 residents. When Dr. Pelley came to the village in 1917 the community numbered only 100 persons including children.

At that time Hanoverton was still in an economic sag resulting from the loss of the Beaver Canal in 1850.

Dr. Pelley points out, however, that the area is rich in possibilities and that at one time Hanoverton had a census of 3,000.

Sidney Isaacs of Cincinnati, commission counsel, said today Cvetic will expose Red activities in Ohio among foreign language groups. He also will explain the aims and operations of the Labor Youth League, described by Isaacs as the newest Communist youth organization.

Truck Strike
In Ohio Over,
Official Says

COLUMBUS (AP) — A Teamsters Union spokesman said last night the four-day-old strike of Ohio's over-the-road truck drivers is "over for all intents and purposes."

Don Pfeiffer, secretary of the Columbus AFL local, said all but about "25 or 30" truck companies have signed contracts in either Columbus or Cleveland. He predicted the rest would sign today.

Pfeiffer said both offices, the only ones where contracts are being signed, were "swamped" with company offers to sign up yesterday.

Organized opposition of the truck operators ended yesterday when Commercial Motor Freight, Inc., of Columbus, one of Ohio's biggest operators signed a union contract.

A group of companies Sunday had signed a pledge not to sign a contract. After Commercial signed, James R. Riley of Columbus, chairman of the management group, released the companies from their pledge. He said "The decision now is up to the individual operators."

The strike began Thursday midnight when Ohio operators refused to agree to a new contract submitted by the Central States Drivers Council, covering Ohio and 11 other states.

The contract provides for a 19-cent an hour pay boost, and further increases for the next two years. The operators did not strongly object to the wage provisions, but objected to other provisions involving penalty pay use of leased equipment and mileage pay.

4 Truckers Fined $330
Yesterday For Overload

Four truckers were fined a total of $330 and costs for overloading yesterday afternoon and night by Mayor Harry M. Vincent.

Fined were: Raymond Klemons of Heidelberg, Pa., arrested on Route 14, $71 and costs; Elmer Rowley of Beaver Falls, Pa., arrested on Route 14, $25 and costs; Elvin Walton of East Liverpool, arrested on Route 62, $183 and costs; Edward Miller of Pittsburgh, arrested on Route 14, $51 and costs.

Milford Barber of Butler, Pa., was fined $15 and costs by Mayor William Unger of Sebring this morning after he was arrested by the Highway Patrol at 7:50 p.m. yesterday for speeding on Route 62.

Drives Away In Wrong
Car; Police Stop Him

Erwin Sohn of 487 W. School St. drove away in the wrong automobile yesterday, but it wasn't his fault.

Loaned a Chevrolet car to use while his own was in the garage for repairs, Sohn drove out of a parking lot on N. Broadway and managed to get as far as City Hall on South Broadway. There police and Mrs. J. P. Maris of North Benton, owner of the car, flagged him down.

Flabbergasted Mr. Sohn explained the situation and police discovered that the ignition keys fit Mrs. Maris' car as well as the garage's Chevy, still parked in the lot. Both autos were the same color.

WASH AT OSHIFER?

LANCASTER (AP) — Ohio's liquor permit chief pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving yesterday. Francis K. Cole, 38, of Columbus was fined $100 by Municipal Judge William C. Pickering, and lost his right to drive for 90 days.

Construction of the Fourth Street addition is approximately 45 to 50 per cent completed, D. C. Wright, clerk of works, revealed in a building program report. Construction of the roof will begin in about 10 days, Mr. Wright said.

Other progress made on the addition is: Heavy structural steel has been erected; roof joists are partly in place; electrical work is up to date; and the stoker has been installed and is in use.

All work at Prospect School has been completed with the exception of installing a radiator in one room.

Norma Williams of Leetonia was appointed to serve as secretary in the Fourth Street School office, effective Feb. 11. Willard Crown of Salem was rehired as part-time assistant janitor, effective Feb. 1.

The board also asked Paul Boucherle of Youngstown, architect, to make a report on seepage of water through the east and south walls of Buckeye School.

Permission was granted E. S. Kerr, superintendent of schools to attend the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators Feb. 24-29 in St. Louis.

Motorist Fined $20 For

Robert Williams, 18, of East Liverpool was fined $20 and costs in Justice of the Peace Felix Butch's court in Lisbon yesterday afternoon for driving left of center, after he was arrested by the Highway Patrol following a collision on Route 30 at 3:15 p.m.

The patrol said Williams was traveling north, about two miles north of East Liverpool when his car slid into the wrong lane while he was going around a curve and crashed into a car driven by Arthur Clandenning of Chester, W. Va. Neither driver was injured.

West Point Man Freed On Drunken Driving

LISBON — A grand jury indicted charging Albert Slazack of West Point with drunken driving will not be tried.

Prosecutor James L. MacDonald said the case has been dropped for lack of evidence with permission of Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp.

A common pleas jury acquitted an East Palestine truck driver of the same charge Thursday.

MacDonald said the prosecution needs something more concrete than a policeman's statement if the case is to stand up.
